

About Engineering

Elgin engineered hardwood floors are manufactured with multiple layers of wood veneer. With each layer oriented in perpendicular directions, our products are dimensionally stable.

This makes Elgin floors resistant to expansion and contraction when subjected to fluctuations in humidity and temperature. The top layer is then finished with high quality real wood.

